SOFTNESS OF SEALSKIN.

Is Rivaled by Human Hair Where Dandruff is Eradicated.

Sealskin is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness; and yet the human hair is equally as soft and glossy when healthy; and the radical cause of all hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite that saps the vitality of the hair at its root. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that is fatal to the dandruff germ. Without dandruff there is no falling hair, but a luxuriant growth of glossy, soft hair is certain. Scouring the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. Thousands of women owe their beautiful suits of hair to Newbro's Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Criminal Expenses.

Virginia paid for criminal charges last year a total of $316,828.32, which amount included $17,049 30 for the Prison Association of Virginia, $10,667.48 for the negro reformatory and $220.75 for criminal charges in the United States courts. The total paid in the counties was $170,474 23, the total for the cities of the Commonwealth being $52,000 less than that for the counties for the same length of time.

Norfolk county cost more than four times as much to enforce the criminal laws and to mete out justice than any other county, the total for that county being $34,092.07; Henrico county being next with $8,588.84, the latter county being one-fourth as bad as Norfolk county. Highland is the most law-abiding county in the State, if one may judge from the amount of criminal charges for the year ending September 30, 1905, the total being $22,88. King and Queen is second in the list for criminal expenses, that county costing $79.50 for the year.

The counties of the great southwest are prolific in crime, or else it costs more there than elsewhere to enforce the laws. Possibly the proximity to Kentucky, Tennessee and West Virginia may be responsible for the enormous expenses for suppression of crime and the trial of offenders, but much public money is spent in that general section, Buchanan and Wise counties leading by $5,173.50 and $5,099.78 respectively.

Warwick county, close to the shipyard town, is another luxury in the way of keeping down the lawless element.

The criminal charges in some of the other counties are as follows: Alexandria city, $3,800; Alexandria county, $2,625; Clarke, $8,258; Culpeper, $832; Fairfax, $2,218; Fauquier, $1,102; King George, $583; Loudoun, $1,030; Prince William, $2,240; Rappahannock, $347; Stafford, $159; Warren, $149; Westmoreland 428.

Rockefeller a Fatalist.

That John D. Rockefeller, jr, is a believer in fatalism and the maxim laid down by Alexander Pope that "whatever is, is right," was shown by his remarks to his Bible class in the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, New York, yesterday morning. An interested listener was Burns D. Caldwell, vice-president of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railway, himself the leader of a Bible class. He supplemented Mr. Rockefeller's address by a few words in full agreement with it. Mr. Rockefeller said:

"That man who is strong and makes his life count for good interest will be the man who learns—and the earlier the better—that he is here to carry out the purposes of God, and not his own plans. We are here to do simply what is assigned to us. It is perfectly right for you and me to try to work out own plans, but when there comes a time when His ways and our ways differ there is only one thing for us to do, and that is to abandon our purposes and turn to the fulfillment of God's. When you and I recognize that we were created to work out this magnificent plan of centuries, when we cheerfully fit into the niche, then only can we hope to live happy and successful lives."

Mr. Rockefeller went on to emphasize the theory that man is not the architect of his own fate, and his thoughts seemed to coincide with remarks made by Cardinal Gibbons a few weeks ago on socialism, when he said that men were not equal mentally nor physically, but that each one had a special duty to perform and a groove to follow in the working out of the divine will.

Wholesale Murder Plot.

Charles H. Moyer, president; William D. Haywood, secretary-treasurer; three western federation miners, and C. H. Pettibone, a former member of the executive board of the organization, were arrested in Denver, Col., late Saturday night on charges preferred by the Idaho State authorities accusing them of being accessories to the murder of former Gov. Frank M. Steunenberg, of that State.

The six men were taken from their cells in the county jail at an early hour yesterday morning by twelve armed deputy sheriffs, and placed on a special train that quickly left over the Union Pacific Railroad for Boise, Idaho.

Former Gov. Steunenberg was blown up by a dynamite bomb as he entered the gate to his home.

With the arrest of the two heads of the Western Federation of Miners comes to light the story of a wholesale plot. Those in public office who had taken part in the overthrow of the Western federation of Miners were to have met the fate of Idaho's former governor, who had used his office to arrest and punish the murderers of the Coeur d'Alene.

Much of the mysterious means which were used to create the reign of terror is being laid bare through these arrests and the confession of Harry Orchard. The mysterious assassination of Martin Walley, the Cripple Creek mining engineer, while on his way to his home in Denver has been cleared up.

He was the victim of dynamiters that were allotted to kill and destroy all who had been opposed to the reign of the federation. He had given offense to the organization.

BRAVE DISEASES, DUE TO STANDING

Facts About Miss Merkley's Dangerous Illness and Complete Cure

Have you ever thought why so many women or girls rather walk an hour than stand still for ten minutes?

It is because most women suffer from some derangement of their delicate organism, the discomfort of which is less trying when they are in motion than when standing.

In some states laws compel employers to provide resting places for their female employees.

But no amount of law can regulate the hard tasks of these women. They must get the strength which this work demands or run the risk of serious diseases and the surgeon's knife.

Read the experience of Miss Margret Merkley, 275 3d Street, Milwaukee, Wis.:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Gradual loss of strength, nervousness, bearing-down pains and extreme irritation compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor said I had diseased organs and ulceration, and advised an operation if I wanted to get well. I objected to this and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I soon found that all the good things said about this great medicine were true. The ulceration soon healed, backache, headache and nervousness disappeared, and in a short time I was strong, vigorous and perfectly well. I wish every working girl who suffers would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a vegetable tonic which invigorates and strengthens the entire female organism, and will produce the same beneficial results in the cases of other sick women as with Miss Merkley.

Seven earthquake shocks were felt throughout the West India Islands Friday. The walls of a number of houses in the Island of St. Vincent were cracked by the earthquake.

Nature needs only a Little Early Riser now and then to keep the bowels clean, the liver active, and the system free from bile, headaches, constip tion. Early Riser Pills never gripe.

AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING. FEB. 19, 1906.

THE American consular service was declared to be a blot on the political and commercial records of the country by Charles Truax, of Chicago, in an address before the Baltimore Chamber of Commerce Saturday. In his trips abroad to look into the situation, the speaker said he had found the department full of men who had been failures in every undertaking in which they had been engaged, and whose appointments were wholly due to political influence without regard to their ability to fill the positions to which they had been assigned. The consular service in general he declared to be ridiculed by foreigners all over the world, and a reproach to American national enterprise and integrity. There are some excellent men in the service, he said, but they, are handicapped by a system that if applied to a business enterprise, would speedily force it into bankruptcy. Is it surprising that American consuls are held up to ridicule?

THE fallacy of trying to shift individual responsibility upon the federal government and the narrow limitations of the national constitution when it becomes a question of enforcing laws which should be enforced by the States, were main topics discussed by Mr. Cannon, Speaker of the National House of Representatives, in an address before the members of the Union League in the assembly room in Philadelphia Saturday night. Besides these points, Mr. Cannon referred to the "glories of the republican party" and declared, without an evidence of sarcasm or even of humor, "that Philadelphia has been nobly represented in the House for a generation." It goes without saying that even the Philadelphians had to stuff handkerchiefs in their mouths to keep from laughing.

MR. HILLENBURG, of Wythe county, introduced an anti-hazing bill in the House of Delegates Saturday, which would prove effective if it passes. He proposes to cut off all appropriations from State educational institutions where hazing is practiced. No better method could be adopted, for under such provisions all persons receiving salaries would be on the lookout to prevent hazing. The government could with propriety try this plan at West Point and Annapolis.

THE class of 1907 of the Naval Academy, which since Monday last has been the senior class at the institution, has passed resolutions voluntarily (?) abandoning the practice of hazing. This comes a little too late and is after the manner of Hobson's choice. There is little fear that after the congressional committee which is investigating this matter makes its report, and in view of the recent exposures at the academy, there will be any more hazing for some time.

MAJOR GILLETTE, in testifying against Greene and Gaynor at Savannah last week told of his inspection of the harbor work, and said that the government had been paying at the rate of $3,600 for what could be got in the open market for $400. Investigation, it is believed by many, would show that Savannah is not the only place where the government pays nine times as much for work as it is really worth.

TWO presidential nominations were made Saturday night—one in Washington by the Sons of Hamilton College of New York named Secretary Root and the other at Pittsburg by the Frick-Pennsylvania-Standard Oil syndicate started a boom for Senator Knox. Secretary Shaw is in the race and Secretary Taft is on the waiting list—but it is some time yet before the nominating convention.

A DISPATCH to Reuter's Telegram Company from Shanghai says: "Nothing is known here of conditions requiring the dispatch of United States troops to China. There is no marked anti-foreign feeling in northern or central China." Still this government is making preparations for invading China and would have the people believe that China is trying to force war upon this country!

IN ten weeks from the opening of a bank in Chicago the officers and directors had borrowed a sum larger than the entire capital on the collateral of worthless securities. It is in this way that bank wrecking is generally accomplished, but it was never before done in so short a time. This truly is a "progressive" age.

FEDERAL employes in debt are watching with great interest a bill recently introduced in Congress, which, if passed, means that they must settle all claims against them or give up their positions. The bill cannot be passed too soon and should also apply to congressmen.

Fire in Rutland, Vermont yesterday, destroyed six business blocks and caused a loss estimated at $760,000.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Feb. 19.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, who since their wedding on Saturday evening have been at "Friendship," the country home of Mr. John R. McLean, near this city, this morning started for the south in a beautiful private car which was waiting for them in the Pennsylvania yards. On the way to Palm Beach, where they will be the guests of Henry M. Flager, the Longworths will stop at Roswell, Ga., the old home of Mrs. Longworth's grandmother, Martha Bulloch. The serenade tendered the White House bride and groom early Sunday morning by a party of automobilists was the noisiest and most enthusiastic function of the sort ever given about Washington. For several hours after the bride and groom had retired to their dove cote, a number of mounted policemen stood guard about the gates of "Friendship" to shoo away the crowd of curiosity seekers that traveled out to the place in the hope of getting a glimpse of the Longworths. The night air grew chill about midnight and by one o'clock in the morning the silence of the grave settled over the villa. Early this morning eight large trunks appeared at the Pennsylvania station baggage room with instructions that they be placed in the palace car. Most of them bore oriental labels. Mr. and Mrs. Longworth boarded the Southern Railway limited at Alexandria at 11:18 this morning. Their private car was attached to a train at the station in Washington, but went empty until it reached Alexandria. The young couple reached Alexandria by automobile from "Friendship," where they had stopped over Sunday.

Leaders in the crusade against divorce, from nearly every state and territory in the United States, were present at the opening of the divorce convention at the New Willard this morning. In all there were about 150 delegates present, including a number of governors of states. H. B. F. Macfarland, president of the Board of District Commissioners, welcomed the delegates. Governor Pennypacker, of Pennsylvania, then made an address, outlining the progress which had already been made toward putting down the "evil," and giving his views of what is now desired to be done. During the morning session a number of committees were appointed, among these being that on resolutions. While a hearty welcome was extended to the convention there is in Washington a strong opposition to the anti-divorce movement. The Washington Secular League last night held a meeting in which much publicity was given to arguments in favor of divorce. Governor Pennypacker was selected president of the Congress.

The U. S. Supreme Court in the case of the State of Missouri against the State of Illinois and the Chicago Sanitary District (the Chicago drainage canal case) decided in favor of the State of Illinois holding that Missouri's bill to suppress the canal as a nuisance should not be allowed.

Headquarters of the Mutual Life Policy Holders' Association have been opened in this city. The object of the association is the protection of the interests of the policy holders and the immediate end in view is the selection of suitable trustees at the coming meeting of the Mutual Life Insurance Company.

The U. S. dispatch boat Dolphin will go to Alexandria on Wednesday evening and lie off that city till after the Twenty-second of February parade.

A committee from the Jamestown Exposition was here today and appeared before the House committee on industrial arts to urge an appropriation for the Jamestown Exposition.

Before noon today the White House wedding guests had all departed and the mansion returned to its usual routine and quiet.

E. Everett Ellis, a patent attorney, dropped dead at eight o'clock last night at the American House. He was in the act of tieing his shoe. Ellis had been drinking heavily for some weeks.

Killed by Explosion.

A terrific explosion occurred early yesterday in the Buttonwood mine, operated by the Parish Coal Company, about two miles from Wilkesbarre, Pa., which caused the death of four men. The explosion occurred in a small structure known as a timber man's shanty, located along the gangway, a short distance from the foot of the shaft. In this shanty was stored a lot of giant powder and this exploded. A number of company hands were at work Saturday night in the mine, and it is thought they went to the shanty to get warm and eat their lunch. The supposition is that the heat from the steam pipes ignited the powder and exploded it. The four men were in the center of the concussion. Three of them met instant death, and their bodies were multilated and dismembered in a ghastly manner. The fourth man died a few hours later at the hospital. His head was crushed and several ribs were broken.

George H. Gaskill, a prisoner, escaped from Charles street jail, in Boston, some time between dusk Saturday and dawn yesterday. Gaskell several years ago was prominent in democratic politics in Chicago and in the World's Fair year (1893) he was a deputy assistant to Mayor Carter Harrison.

J. Houghtaling, father of five children, was yesterday summoned to a New York hotel, where he found his wife dead in bed, and her companion, a man whom he believed to be one of his best friends, also nearly suffocated by gas. At first he could not realize that it was true. Houghtaling braced up sufficiently later on to give orders to have his wife's body removed to an undertaker's. "What'll I tell the children?" he said to the police as he started in a dazed sort of a way for the ferry that was to take him back to the little flat he had left in the morning. The woman's companion, a man named Anstett, recovered at the hospital, and was held for the inquest.

Startling disclosures are made in the report of the committee composed of Dr. Charles M. Emmons and Attorney Richard P. Evans, appointed by the Medico-Legal Society to investigate affairs at St. Elizabeth's Insane Asylum near Washington. The committee regards the condition of affairs in a light so serious that legislative action will be asked to remedy the evils. It is said the grand jury may take up an investigation. The committee say autopsies are held at the asylum three hours after death, and patients have been kicked and cuffed by attendants. The report will go to the President.

Dolan also accuses Mitchell of "playing to the galleries" by threatening the operators with a national strike, but that the operators "called the bluff." Mitchell is further charged with sending organizers into the local field to defeat Dolan, and that money belonging to the organization was used.

Contents of the other rooms were mostly saved, which included the trunks of more than half of the students.

THE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

The Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac bills were placed on the Senate calendar Saturday and made a special and continuing order for Tuesday.

Along with these bills was presented a measure prepared by the State proxies and indorsed by the committee on finance and banks prohibiting the consummation of any merger without the concurrent consent of the governor, the board of sinking-fund commissioners, and the State corporation committee.

The Senate declined to reconsider the veto by which the act relating to the practice of dentistry in Virginia was passed several days ago.

A bill was passed to amend section 437a of the code relating to assessment of standing timber trees.

Bills were introduced,

To prescribe in what cases jurors summoned for the trial of felonies may be used.

To amend sections 4016 and 4018 of the code, relating to the trial of criminal cases and juries therefor

Providing for the number of directors the State shall be entitled to in any corporation to which the State or its board of public works shall have subscribed and which have not been disposed of.

HOUSE.

Speaker Cardwell's bill creating the office of State commissioner of fisheries was reported to the House Saturday and passed. The terms of the bill call for the elimination of the present fisheries board, the duties performed by that body being transferred to the new commissioner. The commissioner also is placed in control of the policing of the oyster grounds and fisheries and directing the operations of the oyster navy. If the bill becomes a law, Gov. Swanson will appoint the commissioner before the end of the current month. It is reported that McDonald Lee, of Irvington, will be appointed.

The House committee on general laws reported the Bland bill placing the saloons under control. It is provided that each county and city shall regulate the liquor traffic within its own boundaries, fixing the hours for opening and closing, and imposing such restrictions as local conditions may demand.

The bill providing for a uniform hour for opening and closing of saloons was reported to the House with the recommendation that it do not pass.

The Senate bill to authorize the sale of lots purchased by the commonwealth for delinquent taxes and not redeemed within four years or more was passed. The bill was aimed at land-grabbers.

A bill was introduced to prohibit traffic in non-transferable tickets issued by common carriers and to require common carriers to redeem unused or partly used tickets and to provide punishment for violation of this act.

The patent medicine bill has been sidetracked. The House committee on general laws after considering the measure decided to pass it by and it is not likely that the bill will reach the House at this session. Another bill suggested by the State board of health, regulating the sale of poisonous drugs, shared the same fate.

The committee has favorably reported the anti-spitting bill, which applies to railway coaches, steamers and public halls.

By the merest accident, the Senate Saturday, before it was too late, discovered itself upon the point of aiding to its engrossment an innocent looking bill which since it has been carefully scrutinized is declared to contain sweeping provisions that if enacted will place fraternal beneficial associations almost beyond the pale of the law and in fact actually makes possible the operation of a mutual assurance society in Virginia, subject to neither State nor statute and very little else beyond its own sweet will and accord.

Do not be deceived by counterfeits when you buy Witch Hazel Salve. The name of E. C. DeWitt & Co. is on every box of the genuine. Best for Cuts, Burns, Boils, Tetter, Piles, etc.

Trouble Feared.

Advices from Budapesth say that today bids fair to be an important day in the conflict which the Hungarian people, represented by the Parliamentary coalition, is waging against the throne for the recognition of constitutional liberty as against the royal prerogative.

Parliament will be dissolved by the Crown, by force of arms, if necessary. The coalition has no programme of action. It is provided for all contingencies. The last meeting held by the party showed that its spirit was clearly for resistance. It was declared then that the Crown's alleged unconstitutional act should be resisted. Both sides declare that they are in the right and are confident of success.

It was reiterated last night that the government had brought a regiment of Roumanian troops to Budapesth.

If the day passes without serious clashes the dissolution of Parliament will still be important for Hungary, for the Crown will have to call new elections, in which the coalition is fully confident of maintaining its majorities, or, failing to call the elections, it will mean the breaking of the constitution by the King and will necessitate the introduction of absolutist measures of government.

Letter to H. K. Field & Co.,
Alexandria, Virginia.

Dear Sirs: What is lumber worth.

"Depends on the lumber," you say—"what sort do you want?"

That's how some people talk about paint. They say: "What'll you paint my house for?"

The Yankee answer is: "How do you want it painted? One coat? two coats? three coats? first class or cheap?"

The proper answer is: "I want the best paint put on as it ought to be."

That's Devoe; but the usual answer is: "I want a good job; but I want it cheap." Which means: I want you to paint it for nothing. I want to be fooled.

Lead-and-oil is the costliest paint there is; not the best; it used to be best. Devoe is best, since zinc came in; Devoe lead-and-zinc.

Zinc toughens the lead and doubles its wear.

Zinc costs no more than lead; and we grind by machinery.

We have no patent on zinc; but nobody else is treating it right. Devoe is your paint.

Yours truly

Today's Telegraphic News

From Richmond.

[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Va., Feb. 19.—A spicy session of the Senate committee on Court of Justice will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock over the resolution to investigate the corporation commission. Mr. Lanier has a commission in the Philippines and is asked that he be heard before the time for him to sail for the East. Some interesting developments are expected before the committee.

The House adopted a joint resolution offered by Mr. Caton amending the constitution so as to allow cities to assess abutting property for street improvements The resolution has been reported favorably by the Senate committee.

The Senate is again considering the clowes matter in executive session.

Hungarian Parliament Dissolved.

Buda Pest, Feb. 19.—With a disregard for the national opinion the Hungarian Parliament was dissolved today by order of the Emperor. There was great display of military force in connection with the presentation of the order for dissolution, but there was little disturbance. Hungary will now be governed, according to the plans of the Emperor, by an adequate regime similar to that which prevailed after the failure of the revolution of 1848.

The dissolution of parliament by royal command marks the culmination of the long-standing quarrel between the crown and the coalition leaders of the parliament over the the question of the recognition of Hungary's rights and liberties. Today's proceedings mark the turning point in the destinies of the dual monarchy of Austria-Hungary and may lead to a revolution ending in the establishment of Hungary's independence.

Early this morning six battalions of infantry, two squadrons of cavalry, and several hundred police officers were stationed outside of the parliament building in anticipation of a riot The coalition leaders had made threats to the effect that they would refuse to listen to the rescript dissolving the national legislature and the officials of the empire had declared just as emphatically that if the rescript were sent to parliament the chambers would be cleared by force if necessary. Only deputies and the few privileged holders of tickets were permitted to penetrate the military and police lines about the parliament building. Many of the deputies wore crepe on their arms or displayed other evidences of mourning for the lost liberties of Hungary.

Although the sitting was one of the momentous gatherings in the parliamentary history of the last fifty years, it was short and quiet. But it threw a bright light on the way the constitutional liberties of Hungary have been suspended without actually provoking a conflict.

The vice president opened the session by reading the Emperor's rescript summoning Parliament to meet today. He then announced that he had received two letters from General Nyiri, who had been authorized by the emperor to act as a royal commissioner dissolving Parliament.

The president refused to communicate these letters to the chamber, saying the chamber recognized only the constitutionally appointed ministers as intermediaries between the deputies and the Emperor. The president then informed the chamber that another sitting will be held on Wednesday.

The deputies withdrew quietly. When they reached the streets outside the building they were received with loud cheers by immense crowds of people who had gathered outside the military lines. The people shouted and waved their hats but were careful not to indulge in any demonstration which would cause police interference.

The deputies had hardly left their hall when a body of troops, acting under general Niyri's orders, entered the chamber and read the imperial rescript to the empty house, declaring that Parliament was dissolved. The doors of the chamber were then locked.

If the deputies attempt to hold another session on Wednesday, as announced, they will find the Parliament buildings guarded by troops who will refuse them admission.

The government will now be carried on entirely by royal decree. This method of governing cannot be maintained long, however, as the budget has not been passed and there is no means of raising money unless the Emperor uses the army to forcibly collect taxes.

The final deadlock in the situation apparently has been reached, and it is impossible to imagine how matters could be more serious than they are at present. An Austro-Hungarian war is beginning to loom dimly on the horizon.

The Miners.

New York, Feb. 19.—The work of preparing in detail the demands of the anthracite miners by the committee of seven is complete and they will be presented to the operators either tomorrow or Wednesday. There was a session of the committee of seven today. A joint session of the miners and operators committees will be held by the end of the week, when it will become known whether the demands have been accepted or rejected. There is a growing feeling that the operators are preparing to force a strike by refusing flatly all the demands. In any event, a long shut down of the mines this summer is forecasted, because of the enormous tonnage of coal piled up by the operators which must be worked off until the normal supply on hand is reached.

Rumored Discord.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 19.—The Slovo says that Premier Witte presented his resignation to the Czar three times during last week, but each time was persuaded to withdraw it. Reports of discord in the Russian Cabinet have become very frequent of late. Differences have arisen because of the conflict of opinion of the liberal element represented by Premier Witte, and the reactionaries headed by Minister of the Interior Durnovo. From recent dispatches it has been apparent that the reactionaries have been exerting a great deal of influence upon the Czar and Count Witte, it is said, went so far on one occasion as to tell the Czar boldly that either M. Durnov must be retired from the Cabinet or his own resignation must be accepted.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Feb. 19.—There were three distinct movements in the stock market in the first hour, including opening gains ranging from ½ to over 1 point, a reaction on which the greater part of these gains were lost, and a sharp rally that carried prices back to and in some cases above the opening figures. At the end of the first hour the great majority of stocks showed material gains over Saturday's closing.

Opening of Parliament.

London, Feb. 19.—King Edward will go in full state this afternoon to the House of Lords, where he will read his speech formally opening the first Parliament which a liberal majority has dominated in ten years. The King will be attended as usual by a great array of brilliantly uniformed officials. The greatest interest centres in the speech which the King will deliver in which he will outline the parliamentary work which the liberals hope to accomplish. The speech will be read to both Houses of Parliament in the Chamber of the House of Lords whither the Commons will repair after being summoned from their chamber by Black Rod.

London, Feb. 19.—King Edward attended in full state and read his address to Parliament, from the throne in the Chamber of the House of Lords. The King was attended by the usual array of brilliantly uniformed officials. The members of the House of Commons assembled in their own chamber, and at the summons of Black Rod, marched over to the Lord's chamber.

The Late J. A McCall.

Lakewood, N. J., Feb. 19.—The remains of the late John A. McCall, former president of the New York Life Insurance Company, who died in the Laurel House yesterday afternoon, from a complication of diseases, will be taken to New York this afternoon. Upon reaching New York, the body will be removed to Mr. McCall's former home, No. 54 west 72nd street. On Wednesday morning the funeral will be held from the church of the Blessed Sacrament, Seventy-first street and Broadway, at 10:30 o'clock. At the conclusion of the services, the body will be taken to Calvary Cemetery, where it will be placed in a receiving vault. The final interment will take place in Albany, for many years Mr. McCall's home.

Wedding.

Paris, Feb. 19.—Lord Ashburton, a member of the British nobility, was married here, today, to Miss Frances Donnelly, an American chorus girl. Lady Ashburton's stage name was Frances Belmont. She has appeared in "Florodora" and "A Message from Mars." The bride wore a brown empire traveling dress and valuable sables, the latter the gift of the groom. Following the wedding, the couple took a train for Bordeaux. There they will take a steamer bound for South Africa, where the honeymoon will be spent.

Count Boni.

Paris, Feb. 19.—The Marquis de Castellane, father of Count Boni de Castellane, made the remark before friends at the Capucines Club, that a partial understanding has been reached by his son and the Countess Anna de Castellane in regard to their martial troubles, and that as a consequence, further scandal will be avoided. Only a legal separation will be secured by the countess, leaving a chance for reconciliation later.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, Feb. 19.

SENATE.

Two leading Senators, Mr. Perkins, of California, and Mr. Patterson, of Colorado, announced in open session of the Senate today that they would be governed by the constitutional rights of Reed Smoot of Utah, when the time comes to vote upon the question of his right to retain his seat.

Mr. Smoot and a full Senate listened with deep interest to the remarks.

Mr. Warren presented a petition from over 500 railroad employees in Wyoming protesting against proposed railroad rate legislation on the ground that it would result in a reduction of wages.

Mr. Tillman introduced a bill in prohibiting national banks and corporations from contributing to elections for political offices, or toward the election of members of Congress.

HOUSE.

Today in the House was suspension day, a house-cleaning of the bills pending.

The Littlefield bill to prevent gambling in the territories was the first measure of any importance considered.

The Tillman joint resolution directing an inquiry into the Pennsylvania Railroad and its control of the bituminous coal fields was briefly considered by the House committee on interstate and foreign commerce this morning and referred to a sub-committee consisting of Representatives Hepburn, of Iowa; Townsend, of Michigan, republicans, and Adamson, democrat, of Georgia. This sub-committee was directed to report to the full committee tomorrow, when definite action is expected to be taken.

The House today, without division, passed the Littlefield bill prohibiting gambling in the territories.

A joint resolution directing the Interstate Commerce Commission to investigate and determine the relations of the oil trust to the railroads and to determine the degree of control of the oil trust in the making of freight rates was introduced by Mr. Campbell.

Death of John A. McCall.

John A. McCall, until recently president of the New York Life Insurance Company, died at 5:35 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Laurel House, in Lakewood, N. J., where he had been taken three weeks ago in the hope that the change might benefit his health, which had suffered a breakdown two months ago. Mr. McCall had been unconscious since about 1 o'clock yesterday morning, except possibly for one brief minute yesterday afternoon, when his eyes opened and looked into the face of his wife, who was bending over him. He smiled, and as he did so his eyes closed again, and he remained in the coma until the end. All of the seven children were present. It was announced that Mr. McCall's death was due to enlargement of the liver, and the end had been peaceful and without pain.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constant failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. The New President of France.

Clement Armand Fallieres yesterday assumed the duties of president of France, while former President Loubet passed into private life. The ceremony of the transmission of office took place in the Elysee Palace at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, while the crowds that were massed in the surrounding streets shouted "Long live the President!" and "Long live Fallieres!" and every military garrison in France thundered a salute of 21 guns.

President Loubet, surrounded by the members of his cabinet, the presidents of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies and the members of his military household, welcomed M. Fallieres and in a few earnest words committed the executive functions to the new president. The reply of M. Fallieres was without formality. It was a simple acceptance of the new responsibilities and an assurance of his best efforts in carrying them out. There were no spectacular features like those seen at an inauguration of the President of the United States. M. Fallieres said that, like Loubet, he will be everything to France and to the republic. He requested the ministry to remain in office.

Bread Riots in Spain.

A special cablegram to the New York Sun from Seville, Spain, says:

"The Mayor yesterday told a Cabinet Minister who is making a tour of Andalusia that the misery of the desperate workingmen was goading them to acts against the public security. The starving people, he said, stormed the bakeries in many places and cattle stealing was common. The situation had been aggravated by recent frosts, which had destroyed the young sugar cane on the plains of Malaga and Granada, which was a most unusual occurrence. There are 28,000 persons unable to procure work in the province of Seville alone. In the town of Osuna there were 4,000. Altogether, in the province of Seville, Granada and Malaga, there were, it was calculated, 80,000 persons out of work."

The Twenty-Second.

As the day draws nearer the arrangements for the Twenty-second parade by the Washington Birthday Celebration Association are being hastened to completion and should the day be fair a large crowd will visit the city and the parade will be one of the largest ever seen in Alexandria. The line of march and the formation of the parade have heretofore been published. The military division will form on Fairfax street and on Prince street, with the right resting on Duke street. At the head will be the chief marshal with his aides and staff, and there also the distinguished guests will take position in carriages. As the marahal's staff will be numerous, and as many guests will be present, the head of the line will be several squares in advance of the military division proper when the parade starts.

The second division, comprising the secret organizations, will form on south Fairfax street, with the right resting on Duke street.

The third division, consisting of the several companies of the local fire department and the visiting members of the Washington fire department, will form on Lee street, with the right resting on Duke street.

The fourth division, which will be made up of trades displays, will form on King street between Fairfax street and the wharf. A portion of this division will form on both north and south Lee street.

The parade is to form at the intersection of Fairfax and Duke streets, and at 2 p. m. will move west on Duke street to Patrick north on Patrick to Prince, east on Prince to Fairfax, north on Fairfax to King, west on King to Patrick, north on Patrick to Cameron, east on Cameron to Washington, and north on Washington to Queen, where it will disband.

The following are the chairmen of the committees in charge of the celebration:

In like manner specials will take the visitors back in the evening.

A meeting of the Friendship Veteran Fire Association will be held tonight for the purpose of completing arrangements for the part that organization will take in the parade. The veterans will draw the old hand engine, which is the successor to the one presented the company by George Washington, and, after the parade, the engine will be manned and an exhibition given. Mr. and Mrs. Longworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth arrived at the new union depot in an automobile about 10:45 o'clock this morning. Their appearance not having been previously announced, but few people were at the depot at the time. The bridal party had come via Mount Vernon Avenue. The automobile drew up on the east side of the depot, and when it became known that Mr. Longworth and his bride were its occupants passengers who were waiting for trains, as well as others who had strolled into the depot, repaired to the east front for the purpose of getting a glimpse at the bridal couple The latter remained seated for about twenty minutes, during which time they returned salutations while a number of ladies and gentlemen were formally introduced to them. Mr. and Mrs. Longworth were exceedingly pleasant toward those with whom they conversed, and impressed all with their cordiality. At 11:18 south bound passenger train No. 29 of the Southern Railway rolled into the depot. At the end of the train was the palace car "Elysian," which had been fitted up for the bridal party. Mr. and Mrs. Longworth boarded the car and a minute or so later the train glided away while the bridal couple waived adieux to their newly-made Alexandria acquaintances. The porters at the depot who handled the baggage received one dollar each from Mr. Longworth. The bridal party will go to Post Tampa, Fla. While at the depot Mrs. Longworth gave autographs to some persons who were introduced to her while the party were at the depot.

The Fishing Season.

The committee on public property advertise in the Gazette the annual sale at public auction of the fish wharf for one year. The Commissioners of the Sinking Fund also order the renting of the fish benches in the market court. As several persons have expressed a desire to engage in the fish business in the market, the commissioners have adopted the plan outlined in the advertisement. During the two previous winters the weather was severe and the river was frozen for months at a time. That of 1905-06 has been open, and it is expected that the fishing season will be a good one, and both the fish wharf and fish benches should bring good prices.

The approach of the lenten season is pleasing to the fish dealers, as during that period their business always increases. At this time there is nothing to indicate that there will be any scarcity of fish the coming spring. There are sufficient fish in cold storage to meet any deficiency that may be caused by a severe storm or other unfavorable weather conditions and prevent the prices from getting higher than they are at present. Smoked fish are always in demand during the lenten season and dealers say that comparatively few buyers appreciate the value of them. There is a much greater variety of smoked fish to be had now than there was several years ago. Fresh shad from North Carolina are beginning to arrive but prices are quite high.

Anniversary of an Accident.

Today is the 21st anniversary of what is known as the Four-mile run accident by which six or seven people were killed. The accident occurred early on the night of Thursday, February 19, 1885, in a tunnel under what was at one time a portion of the Alexandria Canal. A south bound freight train of the Washington Southern Railway was about to enter the tunnel when the Louisville express, north bound, the fastest train of the Southern Railway at that time, entered the southern end. The engine of the freight train was knocked from the rails and rolled down a bank to the shore on the east side of the track, while that of the passenger train was demolished. In the string of freight cars which were wrecked were several oil tanks, which exploded and took fire, and their contents while burning floated out into the cove. The latter soon resembled a burning lake Everything combustible in connection with the freight train was destroyed, and the railway track twisted and contorted out of shape by the intense heat. The passenger cars were pushed away from the wreck and escaped serious injury. At the time of the accident there was but a single track through the tunnel. Later the stone work of the tunnel was removed and another track laid.

A Timely Suggestion.

Chief Webster of the police force suggest to housekeers the advisability of taking due precautions next Thursday in order that thieves may not be given an opportunity of stealing from houses while the parade is in progress and people's attention is being centred on the same. As is generally the case, the city will be infested by suspicious characters on that day, and the police will be kept busy in protecting people from pickpockets. During the last 22d of February parade more than thirty questionable characters were taken in charge by the police. Every precaution will be taken on this occasion, but the officers cannot watch each home in the city.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of his morning:

Five young men, who had been arrested by Officers Ferguson and Garvey, on a warrant, charged with disorderly conduct, were dismissed, the charge having been withdrawn.

Sherman Ford, colored, arrested by Officer Garvey charged with assaulting William Jackson, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear.

Hattie Nelson, colored, charged with improper conduct, was fined $5.

Attempted Suicide.

R. Warfield and S. B. Moore.

Startling But True.

People the world over were horrified on learning of the burning of a Chicago theater in which nearly six hundred people lost their lives, yet more than five times this number or over 3,000 people died from pneumonia in Chicago during the same year, with scarcely a passing notice. Every one of these cases of pneumonia resulted from a cold and could have been prevented by the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. A great many who had every reason to fear pneumonia have warded it off by the prompt use of this remedy. The following is an instance of this sort: "Too much cannot be said in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and especially for colds and influenza. I know that it cured my daughter, Laura, of a severe cold, and I believe saved her life when she was threatened with pneumonia," W. D. WILCOX, Logan, New York. Sold by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

No false pretence has marked the career of Ely's Cream Balm. No idle promises of rewards for cases it will not cure. Being entirely harmless, it is not responsible like the catarrh snuffs and powders, for minds shattered by cocaine. The great positive virtues of Ely's Cream Balm is that it speedily and completely cures nasal catarrh and hay fever. Back of this statement is the testimony of thousands and a reputation of many years' success. All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros, 56 Warren street, New York.

Accent on the Operatic Stage.

No Englishman with daughters could do a rasher thing than permit them to take lessons from eminent professors with a view of going on the stage. The opera stage in England scarcely exists. At Covent Garden a woman who can speak good English can only get in by force of social influence, and abroad a foreigner has very great difficulty because she cannot speak or sing with a perfect accent. The foreign lady or gentleman comes across here and on occasion will venture to sing in English, and their mistakes bring nothing more than a smile to the faces of the audience. But let an English singer go to France or Germany, and something totally different happens.

In 1897 Tamagno sang at Monte Carlo before an audience which was mainly French. He mispronounced a word, and a peal of derisive laughter covered even his stentorian notes. In Brussels I heard an American tenor laughed at because some of his vowels were not quite pure—Brussels, where their French is the most villainous patois I have ever heard. In Germany I have heard both French and English artists laughed at because their accent was not absolutely correct.—London Saturday Review.

An Innocent Gambler.

"Cheyenne was a wide open town in the old days, and every hotel and bar had its little faro game and roulette wheel and stud poker game," said a man who was there. "Our party was staying at the Inter Ocean hotel. A long, loose jointed Missourian ambled in one night and butted into the poker game. There were two or three card sharps at the table, and every citizen carried his shooting iron. This long Missourian looked rather easy, but before he had been playing an hour he was $1,500 to the good. John Chase, proprietor of the hotel, became interested and watched the game. In a few moments he saw the Missourian turn a trick that was not strictly according to Hoyle, and he called the Missourian outside.

"'Now, see here,' said Chase, 'I want to warn you. You'd better be pretty careful. Those fellows are all professional gamblers and are armed to the teeth. You don't seem to realize what you're doing.'

"'Say,' replied the long Missourian, with a look of childlike innocence, 'are they cheating me?'"—San Francisco Chronicle.

Louis the Great's Size.

Louis the Great had even and tolerably regular features without any strongly marked characteristics. By all his contemporaries he is spoken of as a tall man, but he had a way of raising his head, surmounted by the monstrous wig he wore, and of swelling his chest that created the impression of height, for when the sepulchers of the kings were violated by the convention and his body was dragged out of his coffin it was measured and found a trifle over 5 feet 6 inches.

Painful.

"What does Bifkins remind you of?"

"I hate to tell."

"Because it's a reflection on Bifkins?"

"No; on me."

"I don't understand."

"Well, I'll explain. Every time I see Bifkins he reminds me of a little bill I've owed him for over a year."—London Tit-Bits.

Solitude and the Crowd.

It is easy in the world to live after the world's opinion, it is easy in solitude to live after our own, but the great man is he who in the midst of the crowd keeps with perfect sweetness the independence of solitude.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

It Would.

"But why won't your husband let us look up the coat of arms of his family?"

"Paw sez a coat of arms would look funny fer a man that made his fortune in his shirt sleeves."—Houston Post.

Absolutely Effective.

Jack Younghusband—I'm only going down to the club, dear, so don't wait up for me if I'm late!

The Little Wife (sweetly)—No, darling. I'll come and fetch you!

The word "measles" formerly meant leprosy.

A Rare Case.

Sorroughs—I'm always expecting disaster, but still the unexpected happened to me once. Cheerfule—How was that? Sorroughs—When the calamity came nobody remembered to say, "I told you so."—Houston Chronicle.

The Only Sure Way.

"Say, old man," said the soulful young man, "what's the best way to find out what a woman thinks of you?" "Marry her," replied Peckham promptly.—Catholic Standard and Times.

Our greatest glory is not in never falling, but in rising every time we fall.—Pascal.
